WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER.

CONDUCTOR BRADY. Between two and three o'clock, Monday morning John T. Brady of our city was instantly killed and horribly mangled by falling under his train, fast freight No.64, in the yard at Bartley. It appears that he had started forward over the moving train to give an order for the setting out of a car at Cambridge. Just fiance, Iowa, on a visit. how the accident occurred will never be known, and his absence was not noted until the train reached Cambridge, when the train was run back to Bartley and the remains were found in the east end of that yard in almost unrecognizable condition. Another freight and an extra engine had in the meanwhile run over the remains. The body was brought to McCook in the way car of No. 61's train, the same morning, and prepared for Conductor Brady has been in the Burlington employ for many years. Was a reliable man, standing high with the officers of the division and having the esteem of all who knew him. He was a retiring man of the kindliest impulses, and out of the goodness of his heart ty. spoke no ill of anyone. His sad and tragic death is a shock to all and a crushing blow to his loving wife and four day. young children, two girls and two boys, the oldest but eleven years of age and the youngest a mere babe.

The remains were shipped to Toulon, Illinois, Tuesday morning on 12, for interment, and were accompanied by the bereaved wife, her brother James Ryan of Coleman precinct, Mrs. C. J. Ryan, representative of the Degree of Honor, Agnes Hesterworth, and Conductor Eph Benjamin, representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and of the Ancient Order of United Workmen.

The fatal trip was the second one made by the deceased since his recent return from Toulon, Illinois, where he buried a brother who was killed in a street-car accident, the details of which were given in a late issue of THE TRIBUNE.

Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the brides's mother, Mrs. list. Margaret Oyster, her twin daughter Miss Ethel and Mr. Louis Suess of C.L. DeGroff & Co. were united in marriage, Rev. Frank Dean performing the beautiful ring ceremony, Marguerite Oyster in white, being ring-bearer, in the pre-sence of the immediate family and a very few friends. It was a very quiet affair, happily uniting two of our well known people in earth's tenderest ties. Both have grown from boyhood and girlhood in our midst to honorable and useful young manhood and womanhood with the high esteem of all. The bride was sweetly gowned in white silk muslin. The waist was high neck, long sleeves, with long yoke effect of the all-over, finished with deep tucks. The skirt was en train, had a yoke of all-over, with tucked flounce. The bride carried a large bouquet of white roses. The going-away suit was a dark castor cloth with trimmings of taffeta and braid; hat

The ceremony was performed in the parlor under a canopy effect of lace draperies, with white carnations, palms and ferns to carry out the color scheme of white and green in that room.

The sitting room was in red and green and the dining room in pink and green, carnations and smilax being utilized in the decorations.

Following the ceremony, and congratulations over, a three-course lunch was served, after which the young couple Ed Price of Bartley was at Western took No. 6 for Chicago to be absent ten night on 6, from their brief honeymoon flowers. days or two weeks on a brief wedding in Denver.
